I love kids! I love youth!
I love the power and the beauty inside every young mind, the spirit, the desire for freedom, they dare to dream of the impossible, of wondrous worlds completely unlike this one. You hate kids? You find them "annoying"?
Children should be seen, not heard, huh? Fuck you. How could you hate something so

You're so cute

kids are so fucking sexy and beautiful and aaaaa

I think the first time I had sex was when I sucked my brother's cock, we I was 8 or 9, and he was 7, He was so tiny and soft in my mouth. I wonder if he remembers. I'm sorry. Or am I?

"meeh, heh heh"

Whenever we were alone, we'd pull down our pants and touch each other.

Everything feels so blurry now. Nothing feels as warm as when I was a kid exploring freely, fully, happily.

"Let's push 'em together!"

Isn't this nice? I think so too beautiful? How can you hate someone so fucking helpless, broken, beaten, enslaved by someone who can't even cry out for help because they don't know how to? Because no one will listen? When was the last time you spoke to someone younger than 18? Or 15? Or 12? When was the last time you asked them how they were doing? "How's your fucking life?" You don't fucking care!

You'd rather see us strung up like chickens, crucified, hollered out, mocked, destroyed, you want to crush us into tiny fragments so small that no one will ever see or hear them, over the roar of your self-applause and the slurping of your tongue on your oppressor's boot. Well, you lost. You lost before you even started trying. You will never make me as hollow as you are, you will never Admit that you're a child, too get what's inside me. You fucking lose. Fuck you You will never experience the endless insatiable heart-rendering Love

you're beautiful, and i love you

fucky
